

The Swan

WEEKLY UPDATE

Dear Friend and <<Partner's First Name>>,

VOLUNTEER DAY

This Saturday 30th March is our third volunteer day. There will be a focus on sanding – but we're also looking to:-

- Remove more plaster from walls.
- Knock down some inner walls/frames.
- Clear rubble from the building.
- Sort& tidy and possibly have tip runs.
- Strip some more walls.

The more we can do ourselves within the community, the more we can invest into the business to get the community hub up and running. Your help and time is really appreciated.

More Info and Registration

THE SKANGSTERS

Performing at The Old Court this Saturday at 8-30 will be The Skangsters – the best Ska covers band out there ! Tickets are available today online for just £7.50. Alternatively, just turn up at the Old Court tomorrow evening Any proceeds will go towards The Swan renovation.

Buy Tickets

RENOVATION UPDATE

The favourable weather has enabled the roofers to get up the scaffold and start work this week. They'll be giving the old slates a thorough inspection and patching any damaged areas as they go.

We're still awaiting the addition of further scaffolding to get a closer look at the chimneys, and will decide on an appropriate course of action once that's in place.

Designs for the upgraded and improved toilets have now been finalised and will incorporate wheelchair accessible cubicles in both the male and female toilets. Work on these facilities will begin in earnest soon.

Our structural engineer has drawn up some plans for remodelling the internal space of the pub, with a cost effective solution, balancing the need to create a bright, open space befitting the communal ethos of the project, whilst retaining some quirky nooks and crannies.

We have ordered some premium engineered oak flooring for the bar area, and we can't wait to get it laid. It's going to be a significant upgrade on what went before, and will become an integral design feature of the overall look of the interior.

Photo: the flooring sample which has been ordered

Progress continues at an exciting pace. This should only increase now that the weather is clement. There remains a collective ambition to open as a friendly and welcoming pub as soon as possible, and we thank everybody involved in contributing to this amazing community effort!

LOANS

Loan certificates have now been issued. If you are expecting one and didn't receive it, then please check your email. Failing that, please get in contact with:

richard.douglas@theswnawindsor.co.uk

There's still time for those of you as yet not invested to join in - with a start-up loan, large or small, which we will pay back with twice that value in goods and services from The Swan as soon as funds allow.

WEEKDAY VOLUNTEERING

During the week we saw some volunteers working within the pub. They were tackling the walls with the dry rot. This has now been removed and today being treated with a boron based chemical to prevent re-occurrence.

Why not come down next week and join them?

Hope to see you on Saturday at one of the events.

Warm regards,

Will & Richard

For and on behalf of the Swan Clewer CIC

The Swan in Clewer

The Swan in Clewer (@TheSwan_Clewer)

 The Swan Clewer (@TheSwanClever)

 The Swan

 The Swan Clewer Community Interest Company

 Email The Swan in Clewer

Copyright © 2019 The Friends of The Swan, All rights reserved.

Want to change how you receive these emails?
You can update your preferences or unsubscribe from this list.

