

FRIDAY UPDATE

Dear Friend and <<Partner's First Name>>,

The First Opportunity to Raise your Glasses

After a phenomenal amount of hard work put in by The Swan Heroes and our hardy band of volunteers, our newly-appointed General Manager Matt Baker & his team will be pulling the first pints from over the bar at The Swan from 2 pm on Saturday July 20th. The gates will be open from 1-45 pm.

There will a programme of events across the opening weekend with food available from Italian Street Food on the Saturday. Everyone is more than welcome, tickets are not required.

It would, however, be remiss not to point out that The Swan is very much still on its own 'journey of flight', with much work still be done – even after the opening day. However, we have taken the decision to open in order to give investors and, indeed all of our customers the opportunity to sample the atmosphere of The Swan and quench their thirst in the summer months, whilst the sun is hopefully shining brightly in the daytime and the outdoor atmosphere in the courtyard can extend into the evenings.

We hope that you are looking forward as much as we are to your first drink at The Swan, be it on Saturday July 20th or in the following days and weeks.

VOLUNTEER DAYS

We are having another volunteer day tomorrow, Saturday 13th. It will run from 9am until 5pm, just come along. All welcome whether for a half or full day, or simply a couple of hours.

Many thanks to all those who attended the volunteer day last weekend. Nearly thirty people turned up during the day. They covered a multitude of tasks including taking down the flagpole and signage from the front of the building. The service entrance was tidied up and a lot of wire stripping - we mean a lot!

BUILDING UPDATE

A building update with photos will be sent out over the weekend. BUT if you can't wait, then please come along tomorrow and sneak a peak whilst volunteering or just to say hello. We look forward to seeing you.

NEW BEVY MEMBERS

And last, but not least, a special thanks to the 31 people who have responded to our recent request for loans and have contributed an additional £7,575 to our funds over the last week.

Warm regards,

Will & Richard
