The Weekly Download from The Swan

Thursday 27th February

Dear Friend and <<Partner's First Name>>,

Welcome to your weekly update about what is going on down at The Swan. We try to keep a balance of what's happened, and what is planned. Any comments, ideas or articles should be sent to feedback@theswanwindsor.co.uk or by simply replying.

The Green Canteen

If you haven't heard about The Green Canteen, the new project putting warm, delicious freshly-cooked food on your table at The Swan, then you're way behind the curve. But fear not, all is explained on their website.

After a wildly successful soft launch, tonight sees the first "live serving" where diners in The Swan will be treated to a rich and sinful Mac n Cheese plus a sweet treat - all made in The Green Room's professional school kitchen with help from students, and delivered to the pub by bike.

There are still portions available, but be quick. You can order online here, email canteen@thegreenroomschool.com or come down to the pub from 5:00pm tonight (Thurs 27th) and speak to Lexie

St David's Day Crafts

Join us on Sunday 1st March for some simple daffodil and dragon themed craft workshop for children from 2 - 4pm.

If it's warm enough we'll be in the Coach House - but if it's too cold we'll be upstairs in the warmth of the School House.

Investing In The Future Of Our Kids

CAREERS COFFEE MORNING PART OF NATIONAL CAREERS WEEK 2020

As part of National Careers Week we would like to invite local employers and business owners to join our pupils for a morning of networking and informal conversation about the world of work.

We would like employers to share industry knowledge and experience with our young people to help promote the importance of future planning and enable them to make informed decisions about their careers flight path.

To register your interest or find out more information about the careers coffee morning please contact:

The Green Room are inviting local employers and professionals down to The Swan to enjoy some coffee and cake whilst networking with their students, sharing information about their career experiences and livelihood. Can you help? If you can, please contact Daniel on deej@thegreenroomschool.com or 01753 866711. Many thanks in advance.

News From The Bar

We will be launching a new range of daily offers very soon. This will include some of the favourites (such as a Prosecco evening) but will also introduce some ones new too. Announcements soon on website and social media.

We've also just taken stock of some new exciting beers here at the Swan. London Beer Factory and The Gipsy Hill Brewing Co.

And for lovers of the FA Cup, we will be showing the two games being televised by the BBC. Why not come and enjoy the match with your favourite drink?

Building Update

This week has seen work progressing both inside and outside. Although to the casual viewer, none of it will be seen as it is all behind the scene.

In the Stock Room, the Weekday Warriors have been putting up and leveling the new racking. This will take all the bottles, cans, crisps, et al replacing the old reclaimed stuff from the now closed Asian food supermarket.

Outside the team were joined by professionals to carry on the clearance of the debris behind the kitchen wall. The aim is to get the ground level below the damp course.

Last Week At The Swan

We were delighted to welcome "The Jam Factory Band", on Saturday evening; their fabulous set list had something for everyone to enjoy and had people singing along all evening. The added bonus of a late-night BBQ as well as a private party made for a great night all in all.

The 6 Nations rugby BBQs were a little dampened by the rain and wind but not by the spirit. Tony and Ian once again shone as chefs extraordinaire cooking up burgers and sausages to perfection. If you haven't been able to get yourself down to The Swan for a barbie yet then do pop it in your diary for the next 6 Nations games (weekend of 7th March) for a real treat.

Simon hosted the second monthly Board Games evening on Monday. This brought new visitors to The Swan to partake in the top selection of games which inventor Simon had to offer.

Look out for the next instalment on Monday 30th March.

Thanks to every one that came along to our Pancake Party on Tuesday night. Not only did we have a lot of fun and plenty of pancakes, there was big competition amongst the children to complete the highest number of pancake tosses (whilst the adults enjoyed a wee Baileys to accompany their pancake).

What's more, we raised £100 for phase 2 refurbishments of the kitchen.

WANTED! Bingo Caller

We are looking forward to planning our first bingo night – hopefully on Thursday 19th March (hold the date) – but need someone with a big voice and plenty of character to be our bingo caller.

If you know the 'bingo lingo' and want to get involved with something fun then do get in touch – we'd love to hear from you.

Checking In At The Swan

When you're at The Swan, please don't forget to check in on social media as it helps spread word of The Swan. You can check in on Facebook and Twitter, also a plethora of other online places. Links to some of them are at the foot of this email. Thanks in advance. PS we'd also love to receive your reviews too.

Apologies if you received our last newsletter twice - our mail provider had a technical issue with Android devices with GMail. It will be resolved soon.

We are hoping that the team from the Italian Street Food van are well and we can welcome them back on Friday evening from 6pm for some delicious pizza and pastas.

Hope to see you down at The Swan very soon.

Warm regards,

The Friends of The Swan
