30 April 2021

Hi Friend,

Goodbye April, Hello May. On offer this week:

- A tasty Thai treat
- Wood fired Pizza
- Great beer

Another Bank Holiday with plenty to enjoy at The Swan.

A THANK YOU FROM ST GEORGE

Despite the limits due to Covid restrictions visitors to The Swan last weekend enjoyed excellent beer, a topical food offering and themed events. Thank you to all those who visited and a sincere thanks for helping us to adhere to the rules keeping everyone safe.

FRIDAY TAKEAWAY

A real treat this week as Dublicious offer a choice of 4 Thai Curries. All served with Thai noodles, Morecambe Bay brown shrimp, king prawns, marinated bean curd, bean sprouts, roasted peanuts & fresh Thai herbs, Thai coconut rice, papaya and tomato salad and prawn crackers. For full details, and how to order and collect, follow this link.

ST GEORGE'S WEEKEND

We hope you all had a great St George's Weekend and got to spend some time celebrating at The Swan. Matilda certainly enjoyed making her very own dragon. The St George's Day quiz proved popular with nearly 50 entries. Many of you knew your St George's Day trivia but the 3 overall winners with the highest scores were Martin Payne, Mike Lee and Rebecca Clash. Congratulations to one and all.

GR6 UPDATE

On Wednesday the entire gang were at the Market Garden, preparing the harvest and enjoying the slight drizzle which the veg beds have been sorely missing. Epic Thursdays are going from strength to strength, and this week saw the successful move of Dreams on Toast into the food truck, while punters were also treated to wood fired pizzas from Pizzeria de Sophia. The experience of making and serving food to real customers is proving to be something the students are growing into each week, and Epic Thursdays are becoming a fast favourite with staff, students and Swan customers alike.

BUILDING UPDATE

The Weekday Warriors have been surprisingly camera shy this week but the results of their work remain clearly visible. They have been hard at work clearing out wet and dry rot in the store room (aka Room Of Doom!).

The focus remains on preparing the kitchen ready for installation of the equipment generously donated by McFarlane Telfer who have been onsite again to help with planning out the install of services needed for connecting up all the kitchen equipment and AVS with the expansion of fire and kitchen alarm systems.

The Warriors have also been busy remodelling The School Room fireplace/chimney breast to reinstate it around the new kitchen extract ducting and reinstating flooring and wall panelling that had to be removed for installing joist supports, so the school room can be put back into regular use. The list of jobs seems never ending but real progress is still being made week by week. If you would like to remind yourself just how far we have come already take a look at our Renovation Diary.

Despite being a Bank Holiday weekend, and based on advice received, there will be no planned events at The Swan this weekend. We do still hope to provide food from our van but if you are planning to eat please give us a quick call to check as our resident chef (Luke Frywalker!) had the audacity to injure himself playing football - we wish him a speedy recovery.

Don't be fooled by the weather, enjoy the Bank Holiday at The Swan. See you soon.

Warm regards,

The Friends of The Swan
